

The Cairo

BY JOHN H. OBERLY & CO.

CAIRO, ILLINOIS, DECEMBER 12, 1870.

The Bulletin. MONDAY.

Two sets of Senators make their appearance in Washington, from Georgia, claiming seats—one set, Hill and Miller elected by the unconstructed legislature of two years ago, and Messrs. Farrow and Whately elected by the last legislature.

BULLY FOR CREEB.
In the House of Congress on Thursday last, the Hon. John M. Crebs declared that the recent elections developed the fact that a decrease in the tariff duties, especially on the necessities of life, is demanded by the country, and instructed the Committee of Ways and Means to report immediately a bill amending the tariff laws so as to reduce the duties on oil, tea, coffee, sugar, and salt fifteen per cent ad valorem, Bessmer steel 20 per cent, and pig iron two and one-half dollars per ton.

HARPER'S WEEKLY—avowedly a "family paper," but really one of the most rabid Radical sheets in America—attributes the dismission of Republican journals only to a disposition to criticize in the administration that which they deem unwise.

No other consideration influences Democratic journals—only that and nothing more.

HARPER'S WEEKLY, a journal of no very decided ability, but pictorially meritorious, says that papers like the Chicago Tribune that say all the old questions are settled, and that there is really no present issue but that of revenue reform—are merely allies of the Democracy—are wolves in the Republican fold, clothed in the habiliments of sheep.

The unity of the Radical editorial household is beautiful!

THE CITY OF QUINCY, alarmed at the growing stagnation of her business, is moving in the matter of manufacturers. A large meeting of citizens was held there a few evenings since to take such steps as might be considered best calculated to incorporate into the city a large manufacturing interest. An association of citizens was formed under the name of the Quincy Improvement Association, and a large number of the leading men of the city enrolled their names as members.

Nearly every speaker who addressed the meeting, expressed the belief that hundreds of persons who had visited Quincy with a view of establishing manufacturing establishments, had been driven off by the exorbitant prices demanded for town lots. One of the objects of the association is to bring real estate owners to their senses, and if possible to furnish sites to manufacturers at reasonable rates.

A couple of gentlemen who visited Quincy a few days ago to establish iron works, ascertained that the $60,000 they had at their command, would scarcely buy a site for their buildings. They left disgusted.

If those $60,000 gentlemen will visit Cairo—a superior point in every particular—a sufficient site will be sold to them for less than one tenth of their capital.

THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE and the St. Louis Democrat, the ablest and most influential Republican journals in the West, take strong grounds against the annexation of San Domingo, so persistently urged by President Grant.

The St. Louis Democrat says that everything about the treaty of annexation is unfortunate for its popularity; that it was negotiated, not by a proper civil officer, but by a military secretary of the President. It was loaded down with rumors of most shameless and corrupt jobs out of which, it was asserted, influential persons were to make millions of dollars; and one of the parties who was said to have the largest interest in these speculations, was the very officer by whom the treaty was negotiated.

The Democrat answers in the completest manner all the arguments in favor of annexation by the President, and concludes by saying that a ratification of the treaty would lead to war; that we would buy a civil war, a chronic insurrection, to begin with, and that, in addition, we would expose ourselves to a war with others, and acquire a territory which, in the event of war, it would be extremely difficult to defend.

The Tribune is equally unreserved in its opposition to the treaty, and declares that annexation means the addition of 120,000 paper barbarians to our population, and an indefinite amount to our already enormous public debt.

Other Radical papers—the Cincinnati Commercial and Indianapolis Journal among the rest—are outspoken in their opposition to the annexation scheme, and declare that it is a measure fraught with disaster to the administration.
